IN-WALL COLOR TOUCHSCREEN

Brilliant touch control in sleek, small form factor

URC's TKP-Series of In-Wall Color Touchscreens provides highly responsive, elegant control of all electronics and many connected home systems including multi-room music systems, TV and video, lights, thermostats, security systems and more. With its sleek, low-profile design and deeper color saturation, the TKP-5500 is a smaller, compact version of URC's heralded TKP-7000 and looks stunning on any wall at the home or office.

Features designed with you in mind

Another control choice offered in URC's Total Control® line, the TKP-5500 is always on and ready for use. It fits securely in a standard single-gang wall box, so unlike mobile devices that

The touchscreen display can be installed horizontally or vertically, to suit your needs.

“walk off,” this is a dedicated way to provide whole-house control in any area. With brilliant visual feedback you can immediately see what's on and selected in any room on the touchscreen, such as which song or TV station is playing anywhere in the home. With compatible cameras, you can even check on the kids in the yard or in their crib—in full motion video.

The need for speed

These days, everyone expects instant gratification, and the TKP-5500 delivers just that. Bearing the latest and greatest in touchscreen technology, it's faster-than-ever to select and control lighting or browse your music playlists with a simple swipe of the finger. The screen reacts quickly so you can then promptly see cover art images of the music you've chosen. With the TKP-5500, you can quickly see weather info and select eye-catching TV station icons or press a camera icon to discover who's arrived for the party.
