Cut down on hazards, increase efficiency

“I got the idea of creating a new instrument during a crisis meeting in a Danish hospital. Cutting accidents made the staff refuse to prepare and clean knives. The head of department asked us to do something”, says Karin Schemschat, MD, forensic- and general pathologist and cytologist at Umeå University hospital.

Standard pathology knives have been outdated for a long time. It is not just dangerous to change blades, handles are hard to clean and will result in an unhygienic work environment.

In cooperation with Sollex AB – the Nordic leader in knives and blades – Karin Schemschat designed and patented Pathease™, a gross dissection disposable instrument specially designed for pathologists and their safety.

Pathease™ has been highly appreciated by experts throughout Sweden, Denmark and the UK.
